

Hall of Fame

The NWRA Hall of Fame recognizes the association's top leaders in the waste and recycling industry. These individuals have been actively and consistently engaged in the business for more than 25 years. They have made significant contributions to the industry through:

Developing innovations in manufacturing or equipment/product design;

Designing and implementing novel methods of marketing or conducting business;

Building better employer-employee and community relations;

Ensuring safer operations;

Developing industry standards;

Protecting the environment;

Engaging in the legislative and regulatory processes;

Contributing to civic and philanthropic activities; and/or

Participating in the National Waste & Recycling Association and/or its predecessor organizations.

A Note on the Process of Inductee Selection

Nominees will be selected on the basis of the criteria outlined below. Please provide detailed and complete information. Do not assume that industry participants on the NWRA nominating committee will know the contributions of the nominee.
